

BEHAVIOR IN THE COMMUNITY

Students in the Excel Program are given an opportunity to make some behavioral changes in their lives. These changes do not only involve changes in school, but also changes in their behavior in the community.

It is the philosophy of the Board of Directors and Excel Staff that the Excel Program is an attempt to help young people succeed in and out of school. Therefore, the behavior of our students in the community reflects back on the program.

Any student who has difficulty within the community should discuss this difficulty with an Excel staff member and seek assistance. This assistance will include a plan as to how to avoid the problematic behavior. If the student is unable to do this, and if his/her behavior problems continue in the community, then the student is subject to dismissal from the Excel Program.
